Mr. Andrews brings a fresh and human Individual freedom is the key word in Room 112. Because of the vitality and unique teaching methods of Mr. Robert Andrews, his classes are exceptionally popular. He is constantly searching for new ways to present his material. If there are seminars, he takes them. If a student has an idea for a project, Mr. Andrews has a ready ear. For the past seven years he has had a cadet teacher because he wants to give young teachers the same opportunities he has had.

Born in Darrington, Washington, Robert Andrews attended CWSC. He graduated with a major in Social Studies and minors in Civics and Economics. In 1959, Mr. Andrews began his teaching career at Olympic Junior High. Before coming to Evergreen in 1962, he spent a year teaching for the military in Iceland. We dedicate this Annual to you, Mr. Andrews, because we like and respect you.

The excitement of both students and alumni was overwhelming as "Memories" Homecoming 1974 was presented. After successfully completing the 3rd annual Homecoming Olympics, in which the seniors were once again triumphant, came the assembly and Alumni Tea on September 27. Special speakers at the assembly included 1968 alumnus, Wayne Hudgins, and our own Mrs. Nerheim. Standing ovation was in order as Debbie Tarbuck sang. Topping off a perfect day was the Wolverines 14-0 win over the Kent-Meridian Royals. The following evening, many excited people joined in the last event of Homecoming by dancing to the music of the Fred Schwartz band.

Reflections bring only good memories

The water that falls,
and the wind that sighs, runs down the halls,
and over the rise.

It marks the place, where people look,
to keep the pace,
to read the book.

The book tells of the leaf that grows,
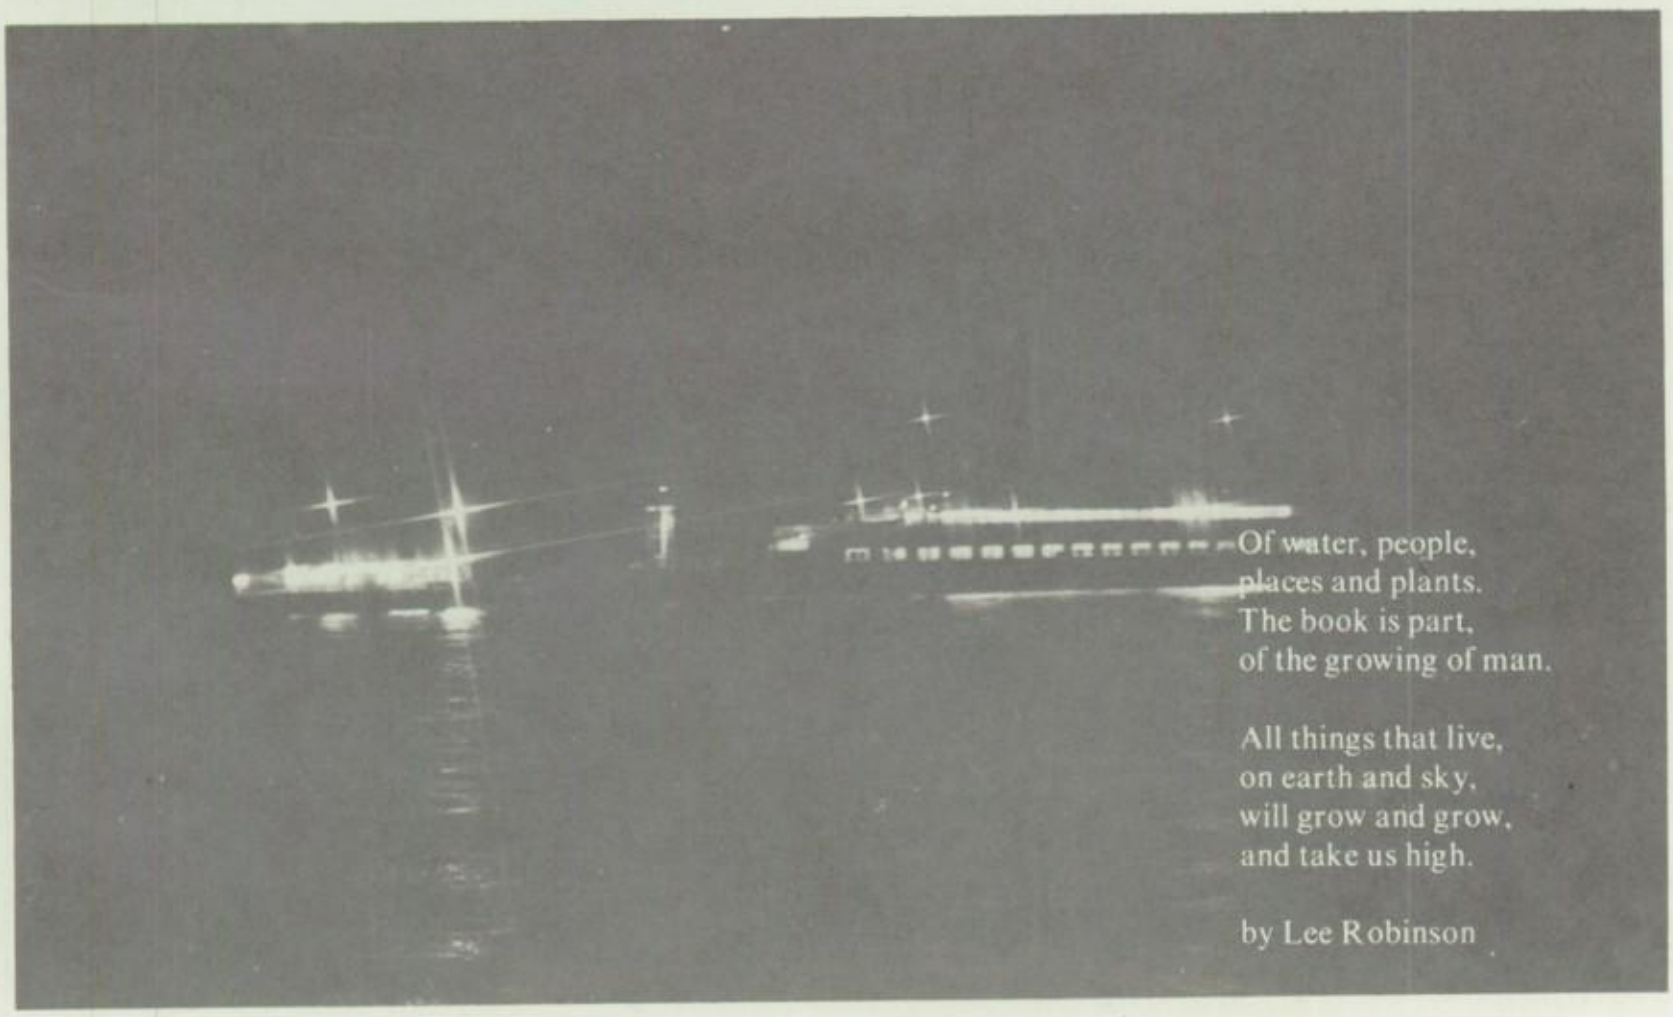
the golden sun,
that orange glow.



Of water, people,
places and plants.
The book is part,
of the growing of man.

All things that live,
on earth and sky,
will grow and grow,
and take us high.

Wolverines still stand tall in pride

Evergreen shows K.M. how to get hit.

Wolverine fans were very ambitious about the first game with Tyee. Offensively, the team looked very strong throughout the game. This, the first of three non-league games, added to Kent Meridian, Hazen, and Auburn, brought success. Fighting Wolverines left Kent Meridian scoreless in the first league game, and the offense seemed primed and ready for Mt. Rainier. The Rams proved to be a hardy opponent and our defense was the only semblance of a coordinated effort.

A dejected team sparked to beat Hazen as the offense took the game, and to Auburn's defeat where the defense showed its prowess.

The last two games, Kennedy and Renton were very disappointing. The rival squads had the edge.

Outstanding players such as Ken Knutson, Barry Saylor, Mark Leroy, Mike Bressler and Rocky Crouse led the Wolverines in a season of disappointments alternating with spurts of glory.

M.Leroy and M.Bressler 'rejoice' after completing a touchdown.

Coaches Cagnon, Whitmore and Hanson 'sweat' the game from the sideline.

4 Wins, 7 Losses

With putters, iron, and woods the team looks

A young golf team had a tough time getting off the tee this year. With three returning lettermen, the team managed only one win in six matches. More consistent play aided the mighty swingers to wins in three of their next four matches. Wins against Mt. Rainier, Lindberg, Renton and Hazen were the bright spots in the season.

Playing flawless golf, Jack Williams buried six out of nine holes for a league record-setting round of 24 points, six under par against Kennedy at Tyee Golf Course. Brian Espe and Jack Williams tied for top honors with a 15.8 point average, and took fifth and sixth places respectively in the league. Also on varsity, were Brian Hedman 10.7, Mike O'Heron 8.5, John Ekness 6.2, Lon Hatling 7.6, and Steve Mastro 7.6. Rounding out the team were Jack Southerland, Frank Bartinetti, Ken Lucero, Jeff Houser and Steve Monroe. With eight golfers to return next year, Evergreen should be right down the middle with the rest of the schools.

DIRTY WORK AT THE CROSSROADS or Tempted Tried and True is a gay nineties melodrama.It tells the amusing but 'tear-jerking' story of Nellie Lovelace, an innocent country girl; of Adam Oakhart, the stalwart blacksmith's son; and of Munro Murgatroyd, the villain from the big city. Munro, the viper, has a wife, Ida Rhinegold, the belle of the New Haven Music Halls, but that does not prevent him from pursuing the innocent Nellie and tearing her from the arms of her dying mother (whom, incidentally, he has poisoned). Nor does it prevent him from driving Adam to drink, from blackmailing the rich Mrs. Upson Asterbilt, or from bewitching her daughter, Leomie. However, thanks to fate, the cur was foiled.

Gymnastics start the season out with grace

Girls' Gymnastics team looks forward to competition every year. After school four days a week the gymnasts work out from 2:30 to 5:30, except on Wednesday because that is the night of competition with other schools. Gymnastics consists of uneven bars, balance beam, floor exercise, vault and tumbling. The all-around performer was Colleen Brandt, who broke her arm during a home meet. The team coach was Miss Sandra Rose, with manager, Anita Skiggn. Team members were Margaret Keller, Karen Johnson, Rene Lovre, Diane Daubert, Val Jannsen, Kym Allingham, Sheri Henry, Jan Dunckley, Ginger Edwards, Debbie Cruz, Kim Mitchell, Cindy Efta, Virginia Farley, Ellen Wood, Collen Brandt, Liz Wallace, and Dawn Cramer. Honors were awarded to Sheri Henry, most improved; Colleen Brandt, inspirational; and Cindy Efta, team captain.

Virginia Farley plays Pat-a-cake.

It's a-bird its a plane, it's Diane Daubert.

Sheri Henry flies through the air with the greatest of ease.

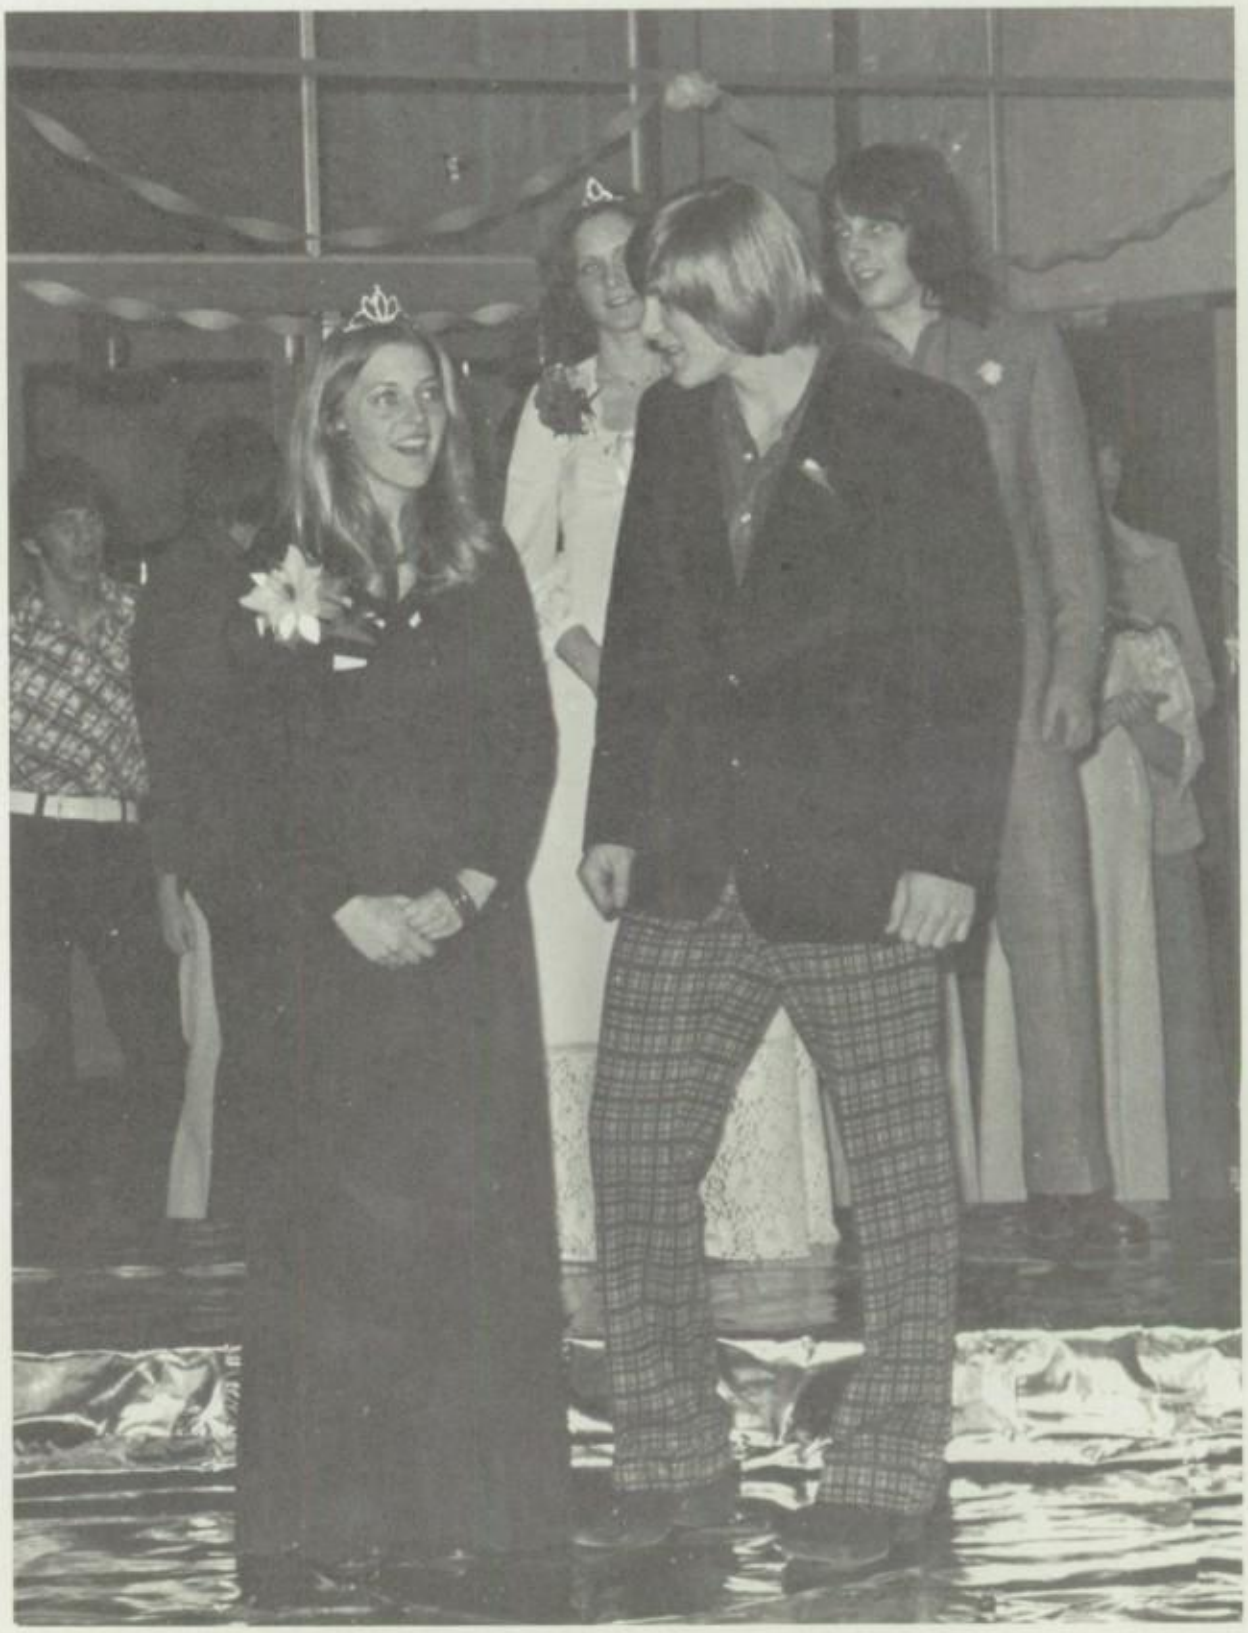
Sophomores create a nostalgic scene

High-spirited couples enjoy Tolo.



Liz Wallace with escort, John Cameron, wonders with amazement at her queenly position.

Using the theme of "Great Gatsby", sophomores successfully launched in their first major event at Evergreen. Palm trees and old-fashioned curtains gave the cafeteria an enchanting aura. Couples waltzed the night away to the music of Star. The evening came to an end with the announcement of Tolo royalty. Liz Wallace was chosen queen, with princesses Susie White, Bernadette Mosely, and Linda Weber.

Debating, although requiring patience, hard work

ACADEMICS

To improve communication skills, the debaters have once again proved themselves to be definite contenders for coming tournaments, including N.P.S.L., in which they seek their 4th consecutive league debate Championship. The topic for debate is "Resolved that the U.S. should significantly change the method of selecting presidential and vice-presidential candidates." The second Invitational Tournament of the year was held at Western Washington State College. The return home with a 2nd place out of 70 schools inspired optimistic hopes for future events. Other invitationals in which they will participate are U.P.S. and P.L.U. Coach Pappas urged the team to work for a 3rd consecutive championship in Individual Events, such as Oratory, Expository Speaking and Impromptu. Several members proved themselves able to accomplish this goal. With other activities, Evergreen is also a member of the National Forenstic League, an honorary society. Under the direction of a respected and knowledgeable coach and working to the best of their ability, the team has made and will continue to make Evergreen proud.

From here to there, Girls' Club is everywhere

From modeling for their moms to dancing with their dads, Girls' Club produced many activities for everyone to attend. As they welcomed back the alumni at the tea, they already had plans for the Winter Ball.

The officers were Barb Renwick, pres.; Rose Anaya, v-pres.; Sue Hutchison, sec.; Erin Enloe, treas.; Sue Ritter, sr. rep.; Wendy Wallmark, jr. rep.; Shirley Steffen and Anita Skiggn, soph. rep.

The chairwomen were Cynthia Westlund, Fashion Show; Lisa Weiger, Father-Daughter Banquet; Linda Beaudry, Mother's Tea; Pam McKibben, Mother's Tea Fashion Show; Cyndie Johnson, Dance; Robin Russell, Social; Kathi Powell, Scrapbook; Peggy Fritchy, Publicity and Denise Saros, Girl of the Month. The adviser was Miss Spratt.

Drill Team marches through a new year

Drill Team poses for team picture.

Girls practiced in the school gymnasium every morning at 7:15 to put together their routines. They have always marched at the Homecoming football game every year, as well as at all the other football games at halftime. Drill Team has also marched at all the home basketball games. Candy bars and stationery are some of the things that drill team has sold in their spare time, to earn enough money to participate in the Victoria Day parade in Canada in May. Drill Team Captain is Debbie Bordeaux, and Miss Cramer is the new Drill Team advisor. She took over for Miss Burdin after her tenth year as the team advisor. Drill Team members: Arlene Abbott, Coreen Baxter, Melanie Calkins, Gail Carroll, Denise DeGagne, Debbie Fotheringham, Kim Halter, Margaret Keller, Debbie Kube, Marilyn Lauritsen, Debbie Lord, Cindy Martin, Kim McKibben, Pam Nalli, Dorothy Nikolaisen, Karen Oster, Glenda Quantrillo, Vicki Regan, Marcia Richardson, Gale Score, Anita Skiggn, Sherry Sweitzer, Mary Beth Thomas, Maureen Vendettuoli.

Color: Burgundy and Cream
Flower: Red Rose
Motto: Some Men see things as they are and say why, I dream things that never were and say why not.
Robert Kennedy.

Remember those long days of Fall?
You always had to count them all-
The court, the tree, and of course, the beach
What's that, you transferred out of speech?

It's all done now, the place and time,
the parties where you stood in line-
Have you seen those friends of old with whom you were so wild, so bold?

How old or young will you seem to be when your son reads this in his grade three?
You've got to remember good times you've had-
Forget that times now, are dull and drab.

Where are they?
What have they done?
Where is their home now,
do they have a son?

Remember school—
When this you see,
You'll wish you were there,
You'll see . . . you'll see . . .

Nineteen years ago, before most of you were born, they built a school! They called it EVERGREEN! It consisted of only one building at that time, but it was the first of eight buildings to be built on this 54-acre site which had originally been a cow pasture, and then became a golf course.

They built the building in 1955 when one could drive from Top Hat to 152nd street and see more houses and farms, cows and horses than anything else. The people of the area had a big reputation as a pea . . . It finaly rained so much it kept everyone in Burien and the surrounding area aware. One day during the students at Puget Sound thought they should hurry it along, so they had to put it in the zoo.

The first day of school in September '55 was a thing to behold, and those of us, about six of the present faculty, who were here will always remember it. About 500 students arrived in buses all during the day. They came from all directions, on foot, by car, and on the busses. There was no landscaping, no driveways, no paths — just bare earth. About 100 more of those 7th, 8th, and 9th graders were scattered in classrooms in Mt. View, Puget Sound, and White Center Heights schools. Teachers commuted one or two periods a day and taught classes in these schools, as well as at Evergreen.

By November of that first year, the 200-East wing of the building was completed. Library books and Mrs. Gowen were transferred over from Puget Sound, and behold! Evergreen had its own library. Good thing, too, for there we held the school dances, and the pep assemblies with students sitting on the floor. I remember the first school dance . . . those were the days of contact dancing . . . a couple was dipping and swaying in a corner in broad daylight! What a cluck-cluck of tongues, and as though at a signal, the collective eyebrows of the entire faculty raised to the collective hairlines, which were also more elevated than those of today!

Many strange things happened during the first two years . . . there was no cafeteria until the spring of '57, and no gym until the following year. Teachers and students ate lunch in the fourth period classrooms. Milk was delivered, and everyone brought his lunch from home. Classrooms were crowded; as many as forty students in some classes. Remnants of lunches went into the waste baskets . . . tuna fish was a popular sandwich. By fifth period smells permeated, aroma of half-eaten tuna fish sandwiches filled the air . . . you can imagine what the air was like by two o'clock!

Not all the supplies had been ordered for this fledgling school (this potential threat to that other long-established school in the area, (to say nothing of the fear the Wolverines would some day make in the N.P.S.L. and set it rocking!) Art classes suffered the most because of the shortage of supplies. The two art teachers obtained toothpicks and glue and had the students make sculptures. We fastened these to the wall, hung them from the ceilings, and they finally spilled over in to other rooms, and up to the hall. The entire ceiling of the 100-building was filled with toothpick sculptures, it seemed.

The first P.T.A. meeting was held that year in the 100-building in the area where the halls leading from the four outside doors meet. There were only about twenty people in attendance, parents and faculty.

Girls' P.E. classes met in regular classrooms. The girls played charades, and became champion bowlers. They used quart-sized milk cartons for pins and a regular softball.

Evergreen had a football team that first year . . . it was a junior high team, but it was a team, and it was the first one! Games were played on the present practice field, with no bleachers and at Puget Sound junior high school field. There were no busses to transport students to the games, so they walked. Miles of students in groups, headed by teachers, marched to Puget Sound and back; they did the same for basketball games later in the year. Cheer leaders practiced cheers in whispers in the front of my Latin class several times.

While these things were going on, nothing had as yet been done to the school grounds and the parking lot. When the rains came in the autumn, the school had grown to three completed buildings, the 100 and the two 200 buildings, with no sidewalks, no breezeways . . . nothing but mud! Students who walked to school past Lake Hicks would arrive with mud up to their knees, and teachers carried an extra pair of shoes from the parking lot, in order to change inside the classroom. The floors in the halls were thick with mud. Finally, someone in a great burst of wisdom, spread sawdust on the ground, which settled into the mud, and then we tracked sawdust into the building. At long last, someone placed some wooden planks between the three buildings, which helped some.

In 1956, we had a 9th grade football team and a sophomore team. Coached by Mr. Brigham and Mr. Dahl, the library was used as a dressing room for the team. As the other rooms in the 200-buildings were finished, the teams moved down the hall, and finally found themselves using 300-building rooms for dressing rooms. Finally, after climbing around and over huge, heavy-duty machinery on the campus, the gyms were ready for classes and teams.

1957 saw Evergreen beat Tolt in football, 33-0 for the first senior high victory with a team consisting entirely of sophomores. Evergreen hosted Neah Bay that season. They came so far, that dinner was served by the P.T.A. for them, and they were bedded down in sleeping bags on the floor in the gym that night. One member of the team asked Mr. Dahl how far we were from Seattle. When Mr. Dahl answered, "About eight miles," the boy from the metropolis of Neah Bay said, "You're sure out in the sticks!" That year we placed second in the Lakeside League. Also, in '57, the first debate team prepared for only two days and won the debate.

Timberlines was organized in '55. All classes contributed articles, typed by the office secretary, and the paper was produced on the ditto machine. In the autumn of '57, the first printed paper was produced by the journalism class who prepared copy with one typewriter, drew the logo by hand, and the front page sported about a dozen three or four-inch stories. The journalism class grew in numbers, a paper was published regularly by '59, and a hot issue featured on the editorial page was about lowering the voting age to eighteen. The same year, '57, saw the first yearbook . . . the Forester then was a small paperback of fifty pages which had been printed by the White Center News on a job press.

As soon as Cascade Junior High opened, the 7th graders attended school there. The next year the 8th graders joined them, and Evergreen added a high school grade. By the autumn of '58, we were a full-fledged high school. Wolverines entered the Puget Sound League, and began with a vengeance to try to beat the 'Pirate' team from that other high school. The practice field had not been graded or filled and the track around it was non-existent, fellows were practicing on a field full of chuck-holes, and when it rained the holes became lakes of water. One small lake in the southwest corner became so large andso deep, we feared we'd lose the team in it. A faculty member, who shall be nameless, brought a row-boat, rigged up a sail, set it in this pond, and propped it up so that it appeared to be drawing about four feet of water. This same teacher whipped out his camera, took a picture,und enlarged the print to an 8 x 10 size, and took it to the administration building for display. In a day or two, machines came in and the practice field was fixed.

The first club to be organized was the Latin Club. In '56, the first Roman Banquet, a costume affair, was held in the yard of a student's home off DesMoines Way South overlooking the Duwamish River. Students in Roman costume stopped traffic, so the State Patrol had to be called to clear up the congestion. Later club activities of the group provided much entertainment. At Christmas time, students went caroling in car caravans all over the district. Some years later when a huge flatbed truck passed a parent's house and the students were singing, the parent was quoted as saying, "There goes Mrs. Nerheim. She has the Latin kids on a truck this year." As it turned out, it was a group of cub scouts. The group sold apples, hot baked potatoes at football games, mistletoe, held car washes, as many as seven at a time at as many stations around the district, The club made so much money its treasury was larger than the student body fund.

While waiting for the 300-building to be completed, some of the first biology classes were held on school busses parked at the front of the building. When students and teacher got cold, the teacher drove the bus around to keep warm, and they became the envy of the entire school.

The first senior class graduated 221 students in June '59. At basketball games, Wolverines tried hard to beat that Highline team. To build morale, we had a silent day before the game. No one, absolutely no one, spoke all during the day until the final assembly in late afternoon . . . then the yells shook the rafters.

Ah, these memories and more! Memories are fragile wings which support the strong and robust body of the present. Flutter these wings for jet power into the future. An important part of your future is upon you . . . welcome those who made these memories and have returned today . . . tonight, Walk all over Kent-Meridian!

Words are so easily spoken, and as time goes on, the thought of each one of you brings these words from my heart.

There's a time to laugh and a time to cry,
And a time to stay, and—the time to go ones way.

But the joy I had with you shall always be remembered by me,
And my tears right now can't cease,
They show the way I've cared for thee.

Yes, words are so easily spoken,
And ears shall always hear the words that are spoken to a friend's tender ear.

This is Nick Danger, Third Eye. I've been investigating for several months now this odd grouping of sixteen people called the Forester Force. Their actions have proved to be very curious. Indeed, I have found some of their executions to be even startling. For instance, their great decline in numbers around January. I have found no evidence that pertain to the fact that instigator, BARB MCKIE, had anything to do with it, but, my inquest is not yet complete. However, I have found that the Evergreen Forester Photographic Blackmail Plot was masterminded by BRIAN HEDMAN, a so-called amateur photographer. Also, some very strange appearances of Barb's lieutenants, SUE SHEPPARD and LEE ROBINSON, occurred on several Saturdays and weekdays after school. Most people didn't notice these activities, as they were conducted in the greatest of secrecy. Only by my complete investigatory knowledge did I catch these meetings, Third Eye and all. It is generally known to the student body that TERRY WESTMORELAND and BEV GOO were in command of the Annual Skipping Scandal. Through private sources I heard that over 300 permits were given out at their direction. It seems, though, that they were not the only ones in on the scheme and that their cohorts measured in the hundreds. On the legitimate side was their production of the Evergreen Annual. CHERYL MEYER, CINDA KOSHNEY, PAM LESSARD and DORIE WHITE could be seen most any day in 5th period, room 201. Though I'm sure they were just a cover for the forces more profitable propositions. KEN KNIPP and MARJORIE MORI were chief buttons. They hit many a layout; sometimes mutilating and destroying their foes so as to be unrecognizable. I have no material evidence on these two, as yet. LYNNE TRULSON, former policewoman, has gone bad. It could be the money, but I have a notion she's in it for revenge. She's head of the Forester Family, a very deadly woman. KATHI POWELL, SUE LITTLE and DEBBIE CRUZ comprise their family of which all three are supposedly legitimate businesswomen. DEBI SHUCK, I believe, is the one who draws the plans of the dastardly forces. I have not found out yet who the Godmother is, although I have several suspects, most likely she is Mrs. VIRGINIA NERHEIM, annual advisor; but I can't be sure. She is probably the key to the breakdown of the Forester Force. I won't rest until I know the FACTS. NICK DANGER-THIRD EYE FIRST SEMESTER: COLLEEN CARROLL, MARK CLAYTON, CYNTHIA COON, ERIN ENLOE, DENISE LANOUETTE, DEBBIE TAYLOR, LYNNE GURNEY and SUZIE ROYER.

Debbie,
It was a pretty good year for you color and I enjoyed playing drums for you on the Hellen Reddy song. Keep singing & take care! Maybe I'll see you on the courts because you walk by my house.
Charlene Hailstone '75

Debbie
I hope you have a cool summer stay sweet and nice and keep up the good singing. I hope to see you next year maybe we can have some more classes together.
Wasn't really fun in Opinski's well bye!
Robin Zukato

Debbie
I think your a good singer so keep it up. hope I have you in classes next year

Debbie
it's been a pretty good year a matter of fact it was kind of outrageous! Opinsky was funck or kind of a Strange class, but we made it and thier are more years to come hope to see you around MaryEllen

Debbie,
your getting to be a pretty good singer just keep practicing in 3rd period
Mike "77"

Debbie,
It was good to have you in chorale this year.
You are a talented person.
Keep up the good work. Have a great summer. Kevin

Debbie,
Thanks for a fun year in Life and take care of yourself. Evergreen for me.
